Lecture Title: Growth just doesn't happen, you need to be intentional about it.

Are you putting the work to be the best version of yourself? We are all born with incredible potential and personal development is the tool to reach it. The truth is that most people won't work on themselves because we are all driven by results and self growth takes time. It requires self growth to discover your purpose, become a better human being, advance your career, be a better spouse/parent, reach your financial goals and enrich your soul. Are you putting the work to be the best version of yourself? I will help you understand how personal growth works and help you become a more successful and accomplished person.
